FINE ART & ADVISORY

Dear Art Patron:

Through the act of artistic activism, Black artists created thought-provoking and compelling works in protest of the past year's injustices. Their imagery sparked discourse that reverberated worldwide and advanced the conversation to a global platform. As we contemplate the future of Black existence, we turn again to artists to be the voice of discontent, beauty, and truth in an exploration of what's to come.

As a champion of Black artists, Galerie Myrtis will play a key role in shaping the future dialogue surrounding the African American experience and present those concerns internationally through its participation in the most prestigious art fair in the world, the Venice Biennial, by invitation of the European Cultural Centre-Italy (ECC-Italy) who will host Personal Structures: Time, Space and Existence, held April 23 - November 27, 2022.

In exploring the theme of Black life on the continuum of its imagined future, Galerie Myrtis will present The Afro-Futurist Manifesto: Blackness Reimagined, an investigation of the African American experience constructed through a futurist lens. The exhibition allows for a global conversation on socio-economic inequalities and systemic racism; while celebrating Black culture and paying tribute to the resiliency, creativity, ingenuity, and spirituality that has historically sustained Black people.

The exhibition will feature the works of artists at the forefront of the contemporary art movement:

- Tawny Chatmon
- Larry Cook
- Morel Doucet
- Monica Ikegwu
- M. Scott Johnson
- Delita Martin
- Arvie Smith
- Felandus Thames

The ECC-Italy will present Personal Structures in three Venetian palazzos and two gardens. The Afro-Futurist Manifesto: Blackness Reimagined will be held in Palazzo Bembo. The event is free and runs from April – November 2022 and expects to draw over 600,000 visitors from around the world.

As the founding director of Galerie Myrtis, I ask your support in raising $500,000 to secure the exhibition space, fund artists' programs, cover art transport fees, and ECC-Italy's staff and logistic services throughout the seven-month duration of the exhibition.

WHY YOUR SUPPORT MATTERS

During my thirty years in the field, I have curated over one hundred exhibitions. The success of those efforts was always in collaboration with talented artists. But equally important was the patronage of collectors, such as yourself, whose commitment to preserving Black art and its rightful place in the Western canon has been unwavering.

I look to you now and ask for your support in Galerie Myrtis's historic journey to the Venice Biennale, as it is the first Black-owned gallery invited to participate. Share in this history-making moment, which will be life-changing for the artists and myself, have a global impact on the arts, and be documented as part of your cultural legacy.

Myrtis Bedolla, Founding Director

Tawny Chatmon

Tawny Chatmon (b. 1979, Tokyo, Japan) is a self-taught, award-winning artist who has been working in the field of photography for more than 17 years. The primary theme that drives Chatmon's practice is celebrating the beauty of black childhood. She is currently devoted to creating portraits that are inspired by artworks spanning various periods in Western Art with the intent of bringing to the forefront faces that were often under-celebrated in this style of work.

Larry Cook

Larry Cook (b. 1986, Laurel, Maryland) is an award-winning photographer and conceptual artist whose work spans installation, video, and photography. Cook's work explores the cultural aesthetic of "club" photography to examine how urban culture and incarceration systems become entwined through backdrops. The backdrop is central for its relationship to the formal, social, and cultural aspects of photographic history.

ABOUT GALERIE MYRTIS

Established by Myrtis Bedolla in 2006, Galerie Myrtis is an emerging blue-chip gallery and art advisory specializing in twentieth and twenty-first-century American art with a concentration on works by African American artists.

Galerie Myrtis's mission is to utilize the visual arts to raise awareness for artists – known or unknown – who deserve recognition for their contributions in artistically portraying our cultural, social, historical, and political landscapes. And to recognize art movements that paved the way for freedom of artistic expression.

Represented is a diverse array of artists at the forefront of the contemporary art movement. The roster includes artists Lavett Ballard, Tawny Chatmon, Wesley Clark, Alfred Conteh, Larry Cook, Morel Doucet, Susan Goldman, Michael Gross, Monica Ikegwu, Ronald Jackson, M. Scott Johnson, Delita Martin, Arvie Smith, Nelson Stevens, and Felandus Thames.

Through the production of museum-quality work, the artists have achieved regional, national, and international acclaim. Their paintings, prints, photographs, and sculpture have been presented in many important museum exhibitions and are in the permanent collections of the Crystal Bridges Museum of American Art, Bentonville, AR, California African American Museum, Los Angeles, CA; Charles Wright Museum of African American History, Detroit, MI, Delaware Art Museum, Wilmington, DE; Minneapolis Institute of Art, Minneapolis, MN; and Nerman Museum of Contemporary Art, Overland Park, KS; National Museum of Women in the Arts, and Smithsonian Museum of African American History and Culture, Washington, D.C; and Mississippi Museum of Art, Jackson, MI.

Galerie Myrtis presents approximately six exhibitions per year with a tendency towards politically and socially engaged themes. The gallery offers cultural programming and events with artists, including exhibition tours, public lectures, film screenings, and Tea with Myrtis, a series of art salons in which arts professionals and legal experts address current trends in the art world.

Since 2017 Galerie Myrtis has participated in art fairs during Art Basel Miami. And the gallery made its international debut during the 13th Havana Biennial in the cross-cultural exhibition “Building Bridges II: The Politics of Love, Identity and Race II,” which featured prominent American and Cuban artists.

ABOUT MYRTIS BEDOLLA

Myrtis Bedolla, Founding Director of Galerie Myrtis, possesses over 30 years of experience as an advisor to private collectors and public and private institutions in the acquisition and deaccession of fine art; and provides professional curatorial services, lectures, and educational programming to corporate, civic, and arts organizations.

Bedolla graduated from the University of Maryland, University College with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration. She received her curatorial training at the Maryland Institute College of Art. And she earned online certificates in Cultural Theory for Curators and Curatorial Procedures from the Node Center for Curatorial Studies, Berlin, Germany.

As one of the few Black gallerists in the country, Bedolla has recently gained national press in the New York Times “Black Gallerists Press Forward Despite a Market That Holds Them Back” in June 2020 and authored “Why My Blackness is Not a Threat to your Whiteness, and Black Lives do Matter” in Cultured Magazine in July 2020. Additional press coverage includes Baltimore Style Magazine, BMORE Art, Create!, and Whitewall Magazines. In 2017 the gallery was voted Best Gallery by the Baltimore Sun.

In 2019, Bedolla made her international curatorial debut with the exhibition “Building Bridges II: The Politics of Love, Identity and Race II,” featured during the 13th Havana Biennial. In 2015, Bedolla curated two seminal museum exhibitions, “Shadow Matter: The Rhythm of Structure / Afro-Futurism to Afro Surrealism,” featuring the work of sculptor M. Scott Johnson held at the Charles H. Wright Museum of African America Art in Detroit, Michigan, and “Michael Gross: Abstraction,” featuring painter and printmaker Michael Gross presented at American University Museum at the Katzen Arts Center in Washington, D.C. From 1990 to the present, Bedolla has mounted over one hundred thought-provoking exhibitions.

Bedolla is a Board of Trustee for the Association of Art Museum Curators (AAMC) and AAMC Foundation, Chair, Arts Advisory Board, University of Maryland Global Campus, Arts Program, and sits on the Municipal Art Society of Baltimore City board.

Professional memberships: ArtTable: a national organization for professional women in the visual arts, and the Association of African American Museums (AAAM).
